Now we are to know the greatest adventure in human history has taken place and we watched it happen. No one has an imagination so dead that they can deny the thrill of the first step on the moon. The first hesitant steps of Neil Armstrong changed in minutes to confident, jubilant bounds and in those minutes man entered into an era of unlimited scope. In 65 years, man has evolved from an earth bound creature to one with a capability that is staggering. Incredible is the word today. Impossible would have been the word ten years back.

and effort? Was Columbus' voyage worth the effort? As long as there are men the unknown will be dared. The great mysteries will be tackled. Each step forward comes in its own time and each has turned out to be vital to man's survival. No one can tell for sure the value of Apollo 11. One thing is sure. The moon will never be the same. Soon that remote, shining enigma will reveal its secrets. All our lives we will recall this day. Our men put the first footprints on lunar soil.

Health says your sight is one of the most valuable gifts of nature. It is certainly one of your most important faculties and for this reason the wise man endeavors to preserve his sight all his life.

Let's consider your eyes for a moment. They are fascinating organs that perform in extraordinary fashion every day or your life. They open and close whenever your mind dictates. They can observe a horse a half mile down a road and the very next moment they will focus correctly on a wrist watch just inches away. They are constantly accomplishing incredible feats of adjustment to size, color, brightness and movement of the thousands of objects that surround us.

The more scientists and physicians study the eyes, the more they marvel. Interestingly they are made up of eighty percent water and contain salt, sugar, fat and albumen. The lens is formed by skin cells somewhat similar to those that cover the rest of your body, yet the lens and the window in front of it, called the cornea, are as clear as glass, with not so much as a single blood vessel crossing. The eyelids are mere flaps of skin and muscle but they too are unique. They are dry on the outside and moist on the inside where moisture is needed to keep the eyeball from becoming irritated. Everywhere within the eye the tissues have been modified to achieve sight. The light-sensitive retina develops as an extension of the forebrain and may be compared with the photographic color film of a camera. It transmits light signals through the optic nerves to be interpreted in the brain as a moving picture in color. In further analogy to an automatic camera, there is the iris, the colored portion of the eye, which controls the size of the pupil to allow in more or less light, like the camera diaphram. The eye is more sophisticated than the camera, however, because it also intricately focuses itself automatically.

Without vision everything would seem a vast nothingness to those who have seen. For this reason one must safeguard one's eyes as a most treasured endowment. So it follows that the complex system of tiny working parts of your eyes should have regular, professional examination and treatment. This Department strongly recommends examination of your eyes at least once every two years by a qualified physician. Even if your eyes seem to be healthy with no obvious problems, it still is wise to have a routine checkup. If eyeglasses should be worn at certain times to correct a defect or relieve strain, or if they must be worn at all times, be sure that they are worn. When particular treatment or exercise is prescribed, it should be carefully followed. For people over forty, an examination for glaucoma should be included as part of an eye test. Glaucoma often gives no warning, yet if it is allowed to progress unchecked, it will cause blindness.

Parents of pre-school and young children are advised to check early with the family physician regarding vision testing. Sometimes little ones show signs of eye trouble ...consistently inflamed or watery eyes or recurring sties. Blinking, squinting, stumbling or tripping more than usual may also be warnings. Some youngsters may actually complain of not seeing well and having a headache. If a child's eye turns in or out at times, or constantly, this too is an important reason for early examination, preferably by an opthamologist, who is an eye specialist. These symptoms may denote amblyopia ("lazy eye"), which causes dimness of vision or loss of vision in one eye. Eye disorders are not uncommon in little children. However, early diagnosis and treatment generally correct most childhood visionary disturbances.

Good vision means a better life for everyone. You're fortunate, you have the wonderful gift of sight...don't ever neglect it!

Series at the Mattapoisett Yacht Club on Wednesday, July 16th. Jimmy Barnes in Gay-Lee-Ann II and Mimi Roy in Four Kings shared the honors in the Beetle Cat division.

Both Corinthian races followed the same course, starting at the race committee boat anchored in mid-harbor opposite Ned's Point to Mattapoisett Neck MYC guide buoy to Red Nun 4 to Ned's Point MYC guide buoy and finishing at the race committee boat. The two Corinthian races listed the same slate of winners: D. Briggs in Iterate, first; B. Mee in Irish Eyes, second; and P. Ruel in Lulu, third.

The course for the two Beetle Cat races started at the race committee boat anchored in mid-harbor opposite Ned's Point, proceeding to Mattapoisett Neck MYC guide buoy to Sunken Ledge Black Can 5 to Ned's Point MYC guide buoy and finishing at the race committee boat.

In the first of the two Beetle Cat races, Gay-Lee-Ann II, with Jimmy Barnes at the helm, was first over the finish line, followed by Mimi Roy in Four Kings, second, and Sue Whelan third. Reversing the two top positions in the second race, Mimi Roy came in first, Jimmy Barnes was second. Phil McCarthy placed third.

SENIOR JULY SERIES, JULY 19th

Plagued by the same frustrating lack of wind that forced many Yacht Clubs along the southeast coast to post "no race" rulings last Saturday afternoon, the Mattapoisett Yacht Club scheduled one race in each of two classes for its Senior July Series, with a shortened course followed by both Corinthians and Beetle Cats. The fleets completed the distance in slightly over two hours, just in time to make the required deadline.

The winner in the Corinthian division was Commander R. W. Eustis of the United States Coast Guard Cutter Vigilant in Lisa. Jimmy Barnes' Gay-Lee-Ann II placed first for the Beetle Cats.

The course followed by both fleets started at the race committee boat anchored in mid-harbor opposite Ned's Point, proceeding to Barstow Rock Red Nun 6 and finished at the race committee boat.

The 10-boat Corinthian fleet was led over the starting line by Norman Shackoy in Blue Chips. On rounding the Barstow Rock marker, Art McLean in Demo was out front, but midway through the last leg was overtaken by Commander Eustis in Lisa.

Lisa was first at the finish line with Art McLean's Demo second. Third place went to Iterate with Nancy Klein at the helm. Two Corinthians did not finish.

Eleven Beetle Cats answered the starting gun, but the extremely light wind caused six boats to drop out.

Sue Whalen in Frolic, leading at the start and on the first leg of the course, was followed by H. Pentleton's Swamp Fox and P. McCarthy's Wolf. After rounding the Barstow Rock marker, Swamp Fox was ahead and maintained this position during most of the upwind leg. During the last quarter of the leg, Jimmy Barnes moved into second place and on one of the rare puffs of wind crossed the line. Harvey Pentleton came in second, and Phil McCarthy was third.

Dues are still coming in and how glad we are to get them this year.

Any resident who has not been visited by Mrs. Dempsey or Mrs. Pacheco may remit their dues by mail.

We appreciate the thoughtfulness of the children who returned my walking cane which I inadvertently left at the beach one day last week. Thank you very much.

May I remind you that any news of the doings at the beach which might be of interest to all, be it serious, humorous, or just plain news, should be brought to me at my cottage at the head of Ripple Street before 6 P.M. on Saturday.

Till next week,

Little League All Stars

ALLSTARS GAME

The annual Allstars game with Lowell got underway with Harry Brown from Rochester, William McLaughlin from Marion and William Hubbard from Mattapoisett throwing out the first balls to Capeway catcher, Peter Nelson.

Big number 4, Wayne Caswell, was first at bat and the first to score in the first inning.

Lowell came back with a run in the third inning.

John Silveira was the big man at bat with a home run in the 4th inning.

With Capeway holding Lowell to one run and Wayne Caswell scoring again the game ended in a 3 to 1 score for Capeway.

At the close of the game Lowell manager Joe DeCosta awarded Wayne Caswell the trophy for the outstanding player of the day, not only for scoring two runs for Capeway, but for doing a terrific job at shortstop.

John Silveira received a trophy for his powerful bat and also was given the home run ball.

The surprise trophy for the day was the hard luck award to Scott Fielding. Things just didn't go right for Scott nor did they go right for Steve Fluegel who was unable to play in the game because of a broken ankle, due to sliding into home plate at a practice session the week before. Steve received a new ball from Lowell, as he was at the game on crutches and has been at all practice sessions. That is real sportsmanship.

Bat boy Albin (Sonny) Pina also received a new ball from Lowell for a job well done. T. O'Malley received the outstanding player award from Capeway.

The boys are hard at practice now preparing for the Allstars Tournament in Acushnet and New Bedford, under the very capable direction of their coaches, Mr. Andy Mendes, Mr. Carl Nelson and Mr. Franklin Caswell.

Rochester Woman's Club

Twenty-three members and guests of Rochester Woman's Club enjoyed a delectable cover dish supper at Mrs. Margaret Benner's cottage in South Dartmouth.

Mrs. Wesley Davoll, president, held a short business meeting to hear reports of recent club activities.

Thank you notes were read from Mrs. Clarence Perry, retiring president, for the gift she received, from Pastor and Mrs. Edward White for being invited guests at the smorgasbord supper, and Miss Sandra Arruda for the scholarship award she received from the club. She plans to attend the Fashion Institute of Technology, New York. The other two scholarship recipients this year were Greenwood Hartley III and Miss Claudette Millette. They plan to attend Maritime Academy, Buzzards Bay and Swain School of Design respectively. Each student received a check for $100. The club also donated $100. to the Old Rochester Regional Scholarship fund.

Mrs. Margaret Benner and her committee that hosted the club for the evening were given a rising vote of thanks.

Mrs. Greenwood Hartley, Sr. commented that she had such good helpers at the smorgasbord supper, it was the easiest supper she had put on. Mrs. George Church and her committee who host the weekly card parties at the club house were commended for their faithful work on this project and also for planting the town horse trough.

The next club meeting will be a covered dish supper at Mrs. Greenwood Hartley's cottage in Marion on Wednesday, August 20th.

Fair will also utilize the General Store lot for its Sidewalk Cafe, the Chapel grounds for the midway and areas around the bank for other attractions.

On the church grounds patrons will find tables laden with baked goods, books and stationery, baskets and imports, flowers and vegetables, aprons, fancy work, children's clothing, stuffed animals, candies, white elephants, hand-crafted items and articles of special interest to hobbyists.

For the young in years and heart there will be miscellaneous midway games and rides, a cotton candy machine and a popcorn dispenser. For all ages, Miss Joy Anne Mc Connell, silhouette artist, will be on hand to do her creative cut-outs.

About 50 pounds of lobster meat, cooked a few weeks ago, will come out of deep freeze to go into the lobster salad rolls that are a favorite featured item on the Sidewalk Cafe menu. Other goodies will be crabmeat, tuna, chicken and egg salad sandwiches, assorted sweets and drinks, and even some good old peanut butter and jelly spreads. All will be served under parachute coverings at umbrella tables.

Robert R. Thackeray will be, as usual, at the microphone throughout the day. Youngsters will provide a special messenger service.

About 20 committees under general chairmen Alexander N. Beichek, H. William Fleming and Mrs. Bert Sell, have joined in preparing for the annual event.

Their chairmen include: Auction, Theodore W. Lacey and Merrill Worthen; baskets and imports, Mrs. Louis Corey and Mrs. Robert Broomhead; books, William A. Clough; candy, Mrs. H. W. Fleming; children's table, Miss Nancy Prescott and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dan-

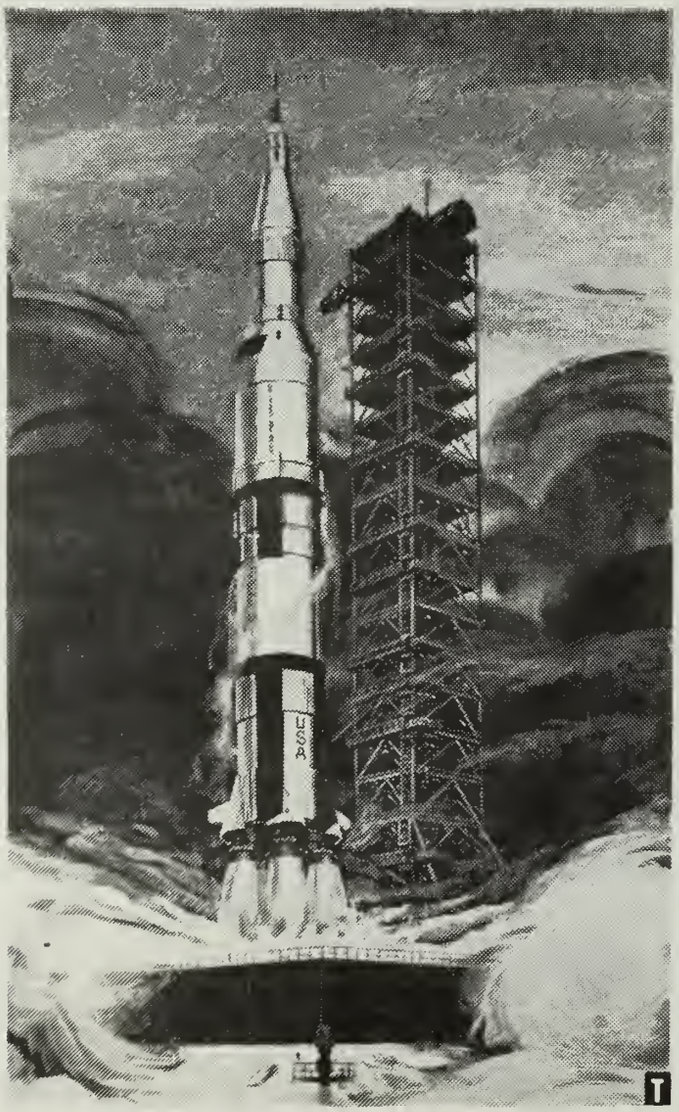
MOON ROCKET



Artist's concept shows the Saturn V, of which the Boeing-built S-IC is the first stage, lifting off from Cape Kennedy on its round trip to the moon. The 364-foot rocket generates 160,000,000 horsepower on its first 40-mile jump, the distance it is propelled by the S-IC first stage. Mobile launcher is completely engulfed by flame of rocket exhaust, indicating extremes of temperature and noise to which it is exposed. Delicate equipment inside is protected by thermal and acoustical insulations supplied and installed by Johns-Manville.

Supper & Square Dance

ANNUAL HAM & BEAN SUPPER

August 2nd will be an important evening in Mattapoisett. That is the date of the annual money-raising event planned by the executive committee of the Congregational Church Couples Club. The club is planning a Ham and Bean Supper scheduled from 5 to 7 P.M. in the parish hall.

General chairman of the supper are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Blackburn who are assisted by a large committee.

Sharing honors that night in Mattapoisett will be an especially gala square dance at 8 on the Town Wharf. Hours for the supper are arranged to get the dancers or onlookers out in time to enjoy the square dance activities.

As of last year, the menu has included home-baked beans cooked by members of the club under the direction of Mrs. Leonard Randall, and they are the highlight of the meal.

All members are expected to help in some way and make this event a real team effort.

Tickets will be available at Tinkham's Pharmacy or from Mr. and Mrs. Herb Arral, Prospect Road, telephone 758-2009, or from any member of the club. Members are asked to return their money or the tickets promptly to the Arrals. Please get your tickets early as there will be very few tickets sold at the door.

SIPPICAN DELIVERS CONTROL ELECTRONICS FOR NAVY SUBMARINE RESCUE VEHICLE

Working under contract to MIT's Instrumentation Laboratory, members of Sippican's Electronics Division fabricated and tested the Ship Control Electronics used in the Navy's Deep Submergence Rescue Vehicle (DSRV). Sippican delivered the first assembly on May 26th, ahead of schedule, and is working on two more assemblies for delivery this summer. The DSRV will be used to rescue crews trapped aboard distressed submarines at depths of 3500 feet or more.

The Ship Control Electronis is a modular assembly that performs analog signal processing and digital logic operations. It functions in its prime configuration with an Autopilot Digital Differential Analyzer (AP/DDA), together with hand controllers, vehicle sensors, displays, panel switches and vehicle effectors, to stabilize and control the DSRV. COUPLES CLUB HAS TRIP TO BOSTON

The Mattapoisett Congregational Church Couples Club took a bus trip to Boston to attend a concert by the Boston Pops at the Esplanade on the banks of the Charles River. Despite a few brief showers, everyone enjoyed the music. A stop at a restaurant and a rousing song fest on the way back to Mattapoisett completed a fun-filled evening.
